

ADOBE CLP HOME USE STATEMENT

The Adobe CLP allows for home use rights that are the same as those in the Adobe End-User License Agreement for Education.

“...You, as the primary user of the computer on which the Software is installed, may also install the Software on one of your home computers. However, the Software may not be used on your home computer at the same time the Software on the primary computer is used...”

By signing the below, I agree to the home use rights as stated above and in the Adobe End-User License Agreement for Education.
